Statement of Motivation: (Please include your motivations for becoming a board member and what general contributions you can make to the growth and development of the ICEE)
I am making an application to be Co-Chair of the ICEE committee as i genuinely believe my experience in developing international partnerships and creating meaningful international alliances will be of benefit to the future growth and success of the ICEE. I have an extensive network of contacts around the globe and aim to tap into this rich network to expand opportunities for ICEE members. My knowledge of commercial income generating for the cultural sector will also assist in my role as Co-Chair.

My application as Co-Chair, with my colleague Hillary Spencer, highlights our understanding and desire to push the ICEE board to a new level of engagement, interaction and development with our members, building on the achievements of outgoing board members who remain actively involved as advisory members of ICEE.

Contribution to ICEE Strategic Goals: (Please describe how your participation in the ICEE board would help the Committee to advance in the implementation of the ICEE Strategic Goals).). For more information, please see the Strategic Goals document on the ICEE website (<https://icee.mini.icom.museum/>) under 'who we are'.

My network of international partners and contacts will further extend our goal to provide a multicultural and multidisciplinary platform/forum across all relevant topics related to exhibition exchange. This network will also serve the need to foster strategic partnerships and collaborations which are intrinsic to the success and growth of the ICEE.

I would like to engage senior leaders in the goals of ICEE, understanding what the future needs of our membership are and expand our engagement with new members across the globe, giving clear direction that ICEE is a committee which listens and improves its practices based on constructive, meaningful feedback.

I want our members to see ICEE as their forum, their safe space to actively discuss issues and challenges of the moment and the future. I believe that effective communication is key to all that we do and only by listening to our membership will we remain relevant and grow as a organisation.

ICEE BOARD CO-CHAIR NOMINATION FORM 2022 CO-CHAIR 2

Name: Hillary Spencer	ICOM Member Number:	ICOM Member Since: (Year) 2016
Title and Work Affiliation (Institution): Independent Consultant	Address:
ICOM National Committees Affiliation: ICEE, Treasurer and board member since 2016	Previous Involvement with other ICOM Groups: (National and/or International Committees, Regional Alliances, Standing Committees, among others) Participation in 2015 ICEE conference; recipient of 2022 ICOM-US travel grant.

Number of Years as a Member of ICEE: (Please include and detail attendance and or active participation at recent ICEE conferences)

Member of ICEE and board member since 2016; attendee in all ICEE and ICOM conferences since 2015.

Professional Profile: (Please indicate a brief outline of education, professional experience, and involvement with national/regional/state museum associations)

HILLARY SPENCER is a transformational non-profit leader skilled in strengthening non-profits with strategic leadership and impact driven, mission focused vision. She is committed to social justice narratives and models of co-creation and co-leadership in both content creation and structural change. She has extensive experience in business development with a global network, focusing on traveling exhibitions and resource exchange. Her proven ability to develop and implement successful business plans that diversify and reimagine both earned and contributed revenue streams, have resulted in increased cash flow, brand awareness and market share. Spencer is a thought leader on the role of risk and leadership and is an active voice in the future of museums.

With a MA in Art History from Brooklyn College and BA from Agnes Scott College in Atlanta, Spencer's early career was filled with work at some of the nation's more prestigious museums, including the Smithsonian's American Art Museum and the Getty Museum. In 2007, she accepted a position at the American Museum of Natural History in New York where she spent a decade managing their traveling exhibitions program. After leaving New York in 2018, Spencer continued her focus on content development while establishing herself as a thought leader in executive leadership.

Currently, Spencer resides outside of Washington DC and is on the Board of ICOM's International Committee for Exhibition Exchange and is finishing her doctorate.

Statement of Motivation: (Please include your motivations for becoming a board member and what general contributions you can make to the growth and development of the ICEE)

As a long standing member of ICEE and ICOM, I believe my experience as both the producer and consumer of traveling exhibitions is an asset to both the membership and board of ICEE. Over the past six years I have contributed to the strategic vision of the committee and helped to foster new discussions around the nature of exhibition exchange. As Treasurer of ICEE I have ensured the financial stability of the organization as we navigated the impact of natural disasters (Hurricane Maria canceled our 2017 conference in San Juan, PR) and global pandemics (COVID required that we shift our 2020 conference in Mexico City and our 2021 conference in Geneva to online).

The leadership of Antonio Rodriguez has been instrumental to our growth and success and I believe that by establishing a co-leadership model, Amanda Mayne and myself and continue and increase that trajectory. Amanda and I have been colleagues for many years and have established a communication style that supports dynamic conversation, big ideas and mutual accountability. We each have global networks and international experience that is complementary but not overlapping. By aligning ourselves, our networks and our experience, I believe ICEE will increase its visibility, its impact and its level of engagement with all of ICOM. My application as Co-Chair, with my colleague Hillary Spencer, highlights our understanding and desire to push the ICEE board to a new level of engagement, interaction and development with our members, building on the achievements of outgoing board members who remain actively involved as advisory members of ICEE.

Contribution to ICEE Strategic Goals: (Please describe how your participation in the ICEE board would help the Committee to advance in the implementation of the ICEE Strategic Goals).). For more information, please see the Strategic Goals document on the ICEE website (<https://icee.mini.icom.museum/>) under 'who we are'.

As co-chairs of ICEE, it will be our privilege and our priority to create accessible spaces for conversation, engagement and exploration of cultural partnerships. ICEE is to be a safe space for collaboration, for conversation and for the development of new ideas. Respecting the cultures, experiences and narratives of all of our members will be of the highest priority.

Whether this is through webinars, in-person conferences, or regional meet-ups, Amanda and I will encourage new strategic partnerships and collaborations. Our experience of facilitating each of the ICEE conferences since 2016 is a huge asset as we consider what comes next for the organization and how we expand our outreach strategies.

By establishing a co-leadership model, Amanda and I will establish a practice that encourages increased participation of the board, advisory council and membership. By building leadership capacity in the committee, ICEE can be more agile in responding to the needs of our constituents, and the dynamic nature of the industry, creating a more relevant platform for the exchange of ideas and practice.
